

Chicago's World-Class Skyline Needs Your Help Now More Than Ever

Chicago's fire issue in unsprinklered residential high-rises is leading to another negative effect – it's marring the city's magnificent skyline with unsightly boarded-up high-rises.

But more importantly, the city needlessly lost one of its firefighters and a resident in the 17 reported fires last year, as well as a resident in one of five fires already in 2024. Many more were injured in these fires. And the costs of long-term displacements and property damage has soared.

Yet, the results of these fires were preventable if the high-rises were to be retrofitted with fire sprinklers.

City Council can help preserve and protect Chicago's skyline and the lives and well-being of firefighters and tens of thousands of residents in 600+ unprotected high-rises.

Please take action as City Council and lead Chicago into the 21st century of fire protection with fire sprinklers in all high-rises.
